AT CUBA VISIT HEARINGS

Four More Backers Are Ejected For Staging Demonstrations

Boycotts in Alabama Are Continuing

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (P)—Students boycotting newly integrated Birmingham schools tried again today to promote a walkout from some classrooms. They found some support, some resistance.

A crowd of more than 400 teenagers gathered for the second day at still-segregated Phillips High School and demanded that students leave class in a sympathy protest. Some Phillips boys and girls joined the crowd, others went on to school.

Hundreds of students stayed away from integrated West End High for the fourth day in a row. Many of those who assembled at Phillips were West End absentees.

Riot-trained police forced the crowd back into a park across the street, and some students left with the announced intention to visit other schools as they did Thursday.

The caravan moved on to integrated Ramsay High, but police kept the crowd from getting within a block of the school. Then, for the first time, the demonstrators visited Shades Valley High in a wealthier section of the city, and county officers let them on the school grounds.

But teachers locked the doors and kept the Shades Valley students inside. Nearby, the school band practiced on a drill field, ignoring the crowd.

The five Negroes admitted to West End and Ramsay high schools and Graymont Elementary all were in class.

At Tuskegee, another of the four cities where schools have been desegregated, no white students showed up at the high school. At Huntsville, white and Negro pupils again went to class together without incident.

Meanwhile, a Negro boy and girl quietly entered Mobile's Murphy High, scene of a demonstration Thursday in which 54 white students were arrested.

Most of Alabama's 16,000-man National Guard went off federal duty at midnight Thursday. President Kennedy federalized the National Guard to prevent Gov. George C. Wallace from using the soldiers to keep Negroes out of white schools Tuesday.

The Army said Thursday night another 130 guardsmen would be released at midnight tonight in the Mobile area. This will leave only 545 on duty in Birmingham, Tuskegee and Tuscaloosa.

Brazil Fires Threaten Second State

CURATIBA, Brazil (P)—Fires ravaging the state of Parana threatened neighboring Sao Paulo today as firemen sought to save coffee and lumber land.

Forest rangers flying over the stricken zone spotted several fires in the southern tip of Sao Paulo State.

More than 140,000 persons have been left homeless by the fires which have razed 30 per cent of Parana's coffee and lumber area, parched by eight-month drought. The number of dead is not known although officials have discounted reports that 250 perished.

Kennedy Will Address U.N.

NEWPORT, R.I. (P)—President Kennedy will address the U.N. General Assembly next Friday, the Newport White House announced today.

Kennedy is hopeful that the Senate by that time will have ratified the partial nuclear test ban treaty and he is expected to talk principally about other avenues for easing East-West tensions.

Ceylonese Raps Mrs. Nhu Today

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (P)—A Ceylonese delegate today challenged Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu's version of the Buddhist crisis in South Viet Nam. He called their treatment by President Ngo Dinh Diem's government a "serious violation of human rights and a threat to world peace."

Maitripala Senanayake, chief Ceylonese delegate to the 61-nation interparliamentary union, was replying to Mrs. Nhu's denial that there was any persecution of Buddhists in Viet Nam.

"Would Madame Nhu's government permit an impartial inquiry through the medium of the United Nations so that the truth might be known to the world?" he asked.

The dynamic first lady of South Viet Nam, unable to answer from the floor because of conference rules, scheduled a news conference for Saturday to answer.

The Ceylonese said the situation in South Viet Nam could give rise to religious strife throughout Asia.

"Madame Nhu said," commented the Ceylonese, "that the people of Viet Nam wanted to live as Vietnamese. But all that the Buddhists asked in Viet Nam was to be allowed to live and worship as free Buddhists."

"Can they enjoy that democracy she said was being set up?"

75 Moved; Fire Cuts Mercy Wing

CHICAGO (P)—About 75 patients were removed from the 114-year-old original Mercy Hospital building today when fire damaged the roof and upper floors extensively.

No injuries were reported. More than 160 firemen were quickly brought to the scene and flames leaped 30 feet into the air for a time from the old structure at 26th Street and Calumet Avenue on the South Side.

Before the fire was reported under control, a section of the old shingled roof of the four-story structure collapsed.

Hospital officials said the blaze apparently was caused by a blowtorch as workmen outside the building were removing ornamental iron work.

A surgical ward containing 20 patients was evacuated immediately on the fourth floor and the hospital's emergency ward on the first floor was cleared.

Later, patients in second and third floor wards also were taken to other buildings of the hospital complex.

Mercy Hospital is a 350-bed institution with several buildings.

Hospital attendants fought the fire alongside firemen.

Firemen remained on the roof fighting the blaze even after a portion of it caved in, and streams of water from portable towers played on the men.

Traffic was routed away from the area as fire and police equipment converged at the scene.

Seven police ambulances and nine other police cars were sent to the fire, and police helped hospital workers move patients from the burning structure to other hospital buildings.

Robert Schindler, assistant administrator of Mercy Hospital, said a dozen nurses and doctors were sent over by Michael Reese Hospital to help with care of the patients who were shifted.

Schindler said that there were 301 patients in the entire hospital. About 50 were moved from general wards on the second and third floors.

WASHINGTON (P)—Backers of students who went to Cuba in defiance of a government ban staged another demonstration today at a House hearing, and four were forcibly ejected from the room.

Police carried two out bodily. The demonstrations began when Philip A. Luce, 26, of New York, who was in the witness chair, made some remarks about Negro voting in Louisiana and Virginia.

There was applause from spectators. "Okay, throw them out," Chairman Edwin E. Willis, D-La., said, and police moved in on the leaders of the applause.

Another young man had been thrown out of the building earlier for haranguing police in the corridor outside the hearing room.

A half dozen policemen carried the struggling screaming youth downstairs from the third floor.

He was one of about 50 young people in beatnik clothes who milled around outside the room after being denied admission by police seeking to avert a renewal of Thursday's near-riots.

Others in the crowd stood silently and watched as police grabbed the noisy youth.

He was identified as William Massey, 28, tall blond New Yorker whose shouts inside the committee room late Thursday helped touch off the second of two small-scale riots.

It was Massey who, after Thursday's hearing recessed, started shouting "Cuba is freer than Louisiana"—the home state of Edwin E. Willis, the committee chairman.

Police said today's struggle developed when Massey began asking them questions and haranguing the crowd outside the hearing room and refused to step back. Then he was taken out, shouting all the way.

On the sidewalk outside the building, Massey said he was trying to find out who was in charge and why he was being denied admission to the hearing room.

Police had refused to admit to the hearing room anyone they regarded as a known troublemaker.

About 40 young men and women who had been kept out of the hearing went to the committee's offices on the floor below and sat down in the hall.

The committee is investigating the journey to Cuba this summer by some 50 young people, mostly students. The group made the trip as guests of Fidel Castro and in defiance of a State Department ban against travel to Cuba.

Signs of That Ol' Man Winter

QUEBEC (P)—Eastern Quebec got its first taste of winter Thursday—snow and winds of 50 miles an hour.

Three to six inches of snow fell in Laurentides Park to the north. Motorists reported snow to the west made driving hazardous for 80 miles along the north shore of the St. Lawrence River.

Out-of-Season Autumn Spell Hits Illinois

By The Associated Press

Unseasonably cold air pouring southward over central and eastern United States today brought frost and freeze to the midcontinent border.

Temperatures dropped to 23 at Ironwood, Mich., and 25 at Ashland, Wis., in the early morning. Northern Minnesota and northern Lower Michigan also had freeze. Overnight lows in the 30s were common in the eastern Dakotas, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan.

The spell of out-of-season autumn pushed on to Illinois' southern tip after bringing early morning temperatures in the upper 30s to a limited portion of the state's northwest corner.

A brisk northerly wind offset clearing skies, and temperatures were expected to hold in the low 60s in the northern half of the state, and barely reach the 70s along the Ohio River.

The early morning low was 37 at Dubuque today. Elsewhere, the minimums ranged from 46 at Rockford and Moline to 61 at Paducah.

The approaching chill set off scattered showers and drizzle, mostly measuring less than one-tenth of an inch.

A less severe foretaste of autumn extended from the Rocky Mountains to the Atlantic Coast. New York City's 46 was a record for Sept. 13.

Navy Launch Swamps; 20 Rescued; One Man Missing

PORT JEFFERSON, N.Y. (P)—A Navy launch, returning men from shore leave in predawn rain and darkness, swamped and capsized today in the choppy Long Island Sound. Twenty men rescued themselves and one was missing.

"Nobody panicked," said Chief Petty Officer Ralph L. Nelson, 43, of Middletown, R.I., a 24-year Navy veteran and senior ranking man aboard the 26-foot fiber glass craft.

"These men behaved very well and I'm damned proud of every one of them."

The accident occurred as the launch neared the destroyer Hazelwood, here for antisubmarine tests, anchored 1,200 yards off Port Jefferson, about 50 miles east of Manhattan on Long Island's north shore.

"The boat started shipping water and went down by the bow," said Lt. Cmdr. Cletus Schepeler, Navy representative attached to a civilian company working with the destroyer in the tests.

Schepeler, who told a news conference that he was not aboard the launch but had gathered his information from survivors, continued: "It was not overloaded. It went down very fast."

Five survivors, including the coxswain, John Getchel, swam the 200 yards to the Hazelwood.

"Fifteen of us hung onto the boat and it floated to the beach where the Coast Guard picked it up," Nelson said.

The boat washed ashore a half-mile away, at Old Field beach, where two helicopters ferried the survivors to a lighthouse and a fire truck took them on to the Setauket fire house. One man, his identity withheld, was taken to Mather Memorial Hospital here.

The Hazelwood carries a crew of 250 men and is commanded by Cmdr. Donald J. Hanson of Middletown, R.I.

New Flying Radar Defense Screen Protects East Coast

WASHINGTON (P)—The Air Force disclosed today that an airborne radar screen is keeping a missile defense watch along the eastern approaches to North America.

Lt. Gen. Herbert B. Thatcher, commander of the Air Defense Command, announced that four-engine patrol planes, operating out of Otis Air Force Base, Mass., maintain surveillance by means of a new electronic defense means as Airborne Long-Range Input, known as ALRI.

Thatcher also disclosed that inauguration of the airborne system was a significant factor in the Air Force decision earlier this year to discontinue operation of the Texas

Tower radar stations off the New England Coast.

He said the new system demonstrated that the ocean-based Texas Towers could be shut down without loss of adequate air defense radar surveillance.

Thatcher said planes patrol hundreds of miles out at sea to provide an improved air defense shield over the horizon and far beyond the range of shore-based radar and line-of-sight radio communications, he said.

Thatcher said the new system attained operational status this week following extensive operational tests. From their altitude vantage points, the flying radar stations sweep the horizon seaward in all directions.

The system is designed to guard against surprise attack from any flight level, right down to the water.

Target information is automatically processed and transmitted to East Coast centers by way of shore-based communication relay points and goes directly into computers to become an active part of the air defense function.

The one-kilowatt ultra high frequency transmitters employed are "among the most powerful ever to be airborne," Thatcher said.

The new system was developed for the Air Force by Electronic Communications, Inc., St. Petersburg, Fla. Thatcher made his information available in advance of an address to the annual meeting of the Air Force Association.

NEWSROOM NOTES — Ever have a backache?

Almost everyone does now and then. All the way from a dull, uncomfortable ache to sharp, almost incapacitating pain.

Some physicians credit soft beds, soft chairs and the other comforts of modern civilization with an increase in the number of persons who suffer from low back pain, says Today's Health, the magazine of the American Medical Association.

Once called lumbago, back pain is often caused by poor posture, obesity, ill-fitting or inappropriate shoes, a sedentary life, over-strenuous work, or participation in sports. It may also be due to disease not directly relating to the back or to injury or strain.

Low back pain may occur at any age but it seems to bother middle-aged persons most. It occurs in both sexes and in all races, and is more common with people who do work that requires stooping or lifting.

Good posture of the entire body is important in preventing low back pain. Sit with the head, shoulders, and trunk erect. When standing, the spine should be straight. Not the military "ramrod" posture, but straight.

A soft, saggy bed and low, soft chairs contribute to backache. Chairs, ideally, should be firm, straight and have the contour of a normal back.

A low-heeled shoe is best for standing or walking. High-heeled shoes tend to throw the posture off balance and increase strain on the lower back. Loafers, ballet slippers and sneakers also may lead to backache if worn extensively.

In lifting heavy objects, keep the back straight and lift with knees and thigh muscles, rather than bending over and straining the spine.

Like many other ailments, backache may be aggravated by emotional tension or anxiety.

Treatment of backache varies with the cause. When it's due to strain, usually rest, heat and a pain reliever will help. Massage, used in moderation, may help relieve discomfort. Your doctor may also recommend exercise to strengthen the muscles of the back and to improve posture.

Backache is a common ailment among Americans. If your back pain persists, consult your physician.

Engine No. 16, Where Are You?

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (P)—Engine Co. 16 where were you?

After answering an alarm during Thursday's two-hour 2.22-inch rain, the fire rig tried eight different routes to get back to its station. Each was blocked by high water in the viaducts.

Rather than risk having the engine stall, the firemen waited patiently for 15-20 minutes at one underpass until the water ran down, explained Maj. Eugene Dodson.

Thursday in a news conference during which he also put in another strong plug for Senate ratification of the limited nuclear test ban treaty, announced he would address the United Nations later this month, and defined U.S. policy in South Viet Nam.

Asked about a Gallup poll in which 50 per cent of those replying thought he was "pushing integration too fast," Kennedy said he thought the figure was accurate.

But he said he considered it "rather impressive" that another 40 per cent replied that the pace was "more or less right."

He said "change always disturbs, and, therefore, I was surprised that there wasn't greater opposition."

Bringing up the school desegregation subject in an opening statement, Kennedy had high praise for "the vast majority" of Southerners.

He noted that five federal judges who signed a school desegregation order in Alabama "were all from Alabama, all grew up in Alabama, and I am sure shared the views of the majority of Alabamians who, I think are not for desegregation, but, nevertheless, met their responsibilities under the law."

He also mentioned school desegregation in South Carolina, Florida and Georgia, and said it added up to "an impressive story."

Politically, he said "I don't know what 1964 is going to bring" but "I think a division upon racial lines would be unfortunate."

"Over the long run we are going to have a mix. This will be true racially, socially, ethnically, geographically, and that is really, finally, the best way."

He said in reply to another question he is not considering a stronger executive order aimed at eliminating discrimination in housing.

TREATY: President Kennedy's voice took on an edge when he rejected the arguments of opponents.

"We can't turn our back and tell 90 nations that now signed it that the lid is off, the atomic age has come in all of its splendor, and that everyone now should begin to test in the atmosphere which, of course, everybody would have to do if this treaty fails."

VIET NAM: "We want the war to be won, the Communists to be contained and the Americans to go home. That is our policy."

GOLDWATER: The President also drew laughter when he said he was not yet ready to comment extensively on attacks by Sen. Barry Goldwater, a possible Republican candidate to oppose him in next year's presidential election. But Kennedy was seerious in denying there were any secret commitments made to obtain the test ban treaty, as a questioner said had been hinted by Goldwater.

CUBA: Kennedy rejected as "dangerous" and "incendiary" any suggestions for a military invasion of Cuba.

PAKISTAN: Kennedy said he did not think Pakistan would make an alliance with Communist China in retaliation for U.S. aid to India.

Integration 'At About Right Tempo,' States Kennedy

WASHINGTON (P)—President Kennedy says he thinks "we are going at about the right tempo" on racial integration and that he does not believe Americans will make the "fatal mistake" of dividing politically along racial lines.

He said the recent desegregation of schools in 150 Southern cities "is an impressive story" reflecting great credit on Southerners who put respect for the law above emotion.

The President gave these views

Attend the Church of Your Faith Regularly

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

BIG DAY

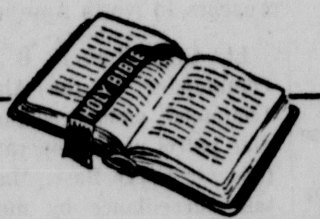

It's an odd feeling when children start to school. As a parent, you are tremendously proud and excited. But you are also a little afraid.

For the first time, your Johnnie and Susie are going off on their own. Suddenly, they look smaller than they have since they were babies, and you have an irresistible impulse to run after them. But it's too late for that—so you let them go, with a smile on your lips and a fervent prayer in your heart.

Later, when the first rush of emotion passes and reason returns, you laugh at yourself. For the truth is that Johnnie and Susie are exactly where they've always been; in God's care, whether at home, in school, at play, or in church. And, grateful to the Church for this truth, you remind yourself that next Sunday you'll remember to thank God for that care... a little more than usual.

Missionary to Africa Misses Root Beer Most

By BOB HARING

Tulsa, Okla. (P)—Being a missionary in Africa requires a lot of sacrifices—such as giving up root beer.

"There's just nowhere to go for root beer in Africa," says Virginia Patterson, 32, a missionary to Nigeria.

On home leave, she said she misses being able to get up and go out in Africa "when I feel like it—like going for a root beer" more than she misses modern plumbing, electricity and appliances common in the United States.

But Miss Patterson is a dedicated missionary, firmly convinced of the need of teaching Christianity throughout Africa.

She also is a busy student. Since she graduated from the University of Tulsa in 1953, she earned master's degree in Bible study from a South Carolina college and in elementary education from Oklahoma State University.

She has spent four years in Nigeria, where she is a seventh grade teacher at the Sudan interior mission school.

She has her own home, built by Africans of mud bricks.

In the area where she works, there is one church to every 10,000 people, compared to 84 Baptist churches serving Tulsa.

"Here in Tulsa you see a church on every corner, each with a pastor, assistant pastor, education director, minister of music, etc.," she says. "These men could be in the mission field."

"People just aren't interested in religious things. They only care about material things—their beautiful church buildings."

"The Africans walk for miles to come to church in mud huts. They sit on cement benches."

Miss Patterson, sponsored by a Tulsa Baptist church, now is assigned to teach children of missionary parents. This is a vital task, she feels.

"The children of missionaries deserve the very best attention," she says. "They sacrifice as much for the Lord as do their parents."

The special seven-member panel held its first meeting Thursday and Chairman Ralph T. Seward set the date for the opening of the hearings.

TITO VISIT: Rep. Alvin E. O'Konski, R-Wis., who was in the forefront of opposition to Yugoslavia President Josip Broz Tito's planned visit here in 1957, says news that the Communist dictator is coming here Oct. 17 to confer with President Kennedy is "terrible — horrible."

CURE ON MILITARY: The Joint

Ancient Elm Tree Killed By Disease

EDWARDSVILLE, Ill. (AP)—An ancient elm tree, believed the largest of its kind in the United States, will be cut down next week, because it has fallen victim to the dreaded Dutch elm disease.

The elm, 77 feet tall, has a spread of 125 feet. Only a few green leaves cling to its branches. The rest have turned brown and fallen to the ground, as time and the Dutch elm disease took their toll.

Tree surgeons from Southern Illinois University, on whose property the tree is located, have worked for two years, trying to preserve the gigantic tree.

After it is felled next Tuesday, university officials plan to preserve two cross-section slices of the tree. One will be kept at the school's Edwardsville campus. The Illinois State Historical Society has expressed an interest in obtaining the other.

Local historians say the tree was standing long before most white settlers came to the area.

Arson Try, Vandalism Investigated

Dixon Police and Fire officials today are investigating the vandalism and attempted burning of a building at 500 E. River St., which apparently occurred Thursday.

Entry was gained when vandals forced the front door lock, according to Detective Sgt. Edward F. Trotter and Fire Chief Gail Keyser.

The officers said 16 fluorescent light tubes were smashed and that an attempt was made to set the building on fire.

The vandals made torches out of beer cans, using fuel oil and paper, but the torches failed to ignite, according to Trotter and Keyser.

The break-in was reported to police this morning by John Carlson, an employee of the B. F. Shaw Printing Co., owner of the building.

Negroes Discuss Extent Of Discrimination Here

Recruit Nine For DSS Work

Eight physicians and a laboratory researcher from Michael Reese Hospital, Chicago, have been recruited to work one or two days a month at the Dixon State School in five medical specialties.

Supt. David Edelson hailed the arrangement as the "beginning of a productive relationship with one of the nation's top teaching hospitals."

Edelson said later on Michael Reese may assign some of its physicians to work at the school during their residencies. This could result in some resident physicians being assigned full-time.

Also, Edelson said, some of the school's staff physicians may later be sent to Michael Reese on a rotating basis to learn some of the latest medical techniques.

In the meantime, the nine Michael Reese staff members will visit the school as consultants on various days each month. Five made their first trip this week.

Edelson said he and Dr. Paul Tillman, assistant superintendent, obtained the consultants because of the institution's desire to provide "the best of medical care for its patients." The school has a shortage of full-time physicians.

They made arrangements through Dr. Abraham Gelperin, medical director at Michael Reese and former assistant superintendent at the school.

The school has 12 full-time physicians for 4,900 patients. It once had 22. The consultants alone won't solve the problems and full-time doctors still are being sought, Dr. Tillman said.

Amboy Home Damaged by Fire Today

AMBOY — A fire of undetermined origin caused considerable damage to the Clarence Masters residence on West Division Street early this morning.

At 1:10 a.m. today the Masters family was awakened by smoke and summoned the Amboy Volunteer Fire Department, which fought the fire until 5 a.m. The neighbors were able to help the Masters take most of the furniture out of the house before it was damaged.

The fire reportedly started in the corner of the kitchen and spread upstairs and through the attic. There was no estimate of damage to the house, which also received smoke and water damage.

The house had been completely remodeled after a fire in October, 1961, caused extensive damage to the home, then owned by Mr. and Mrs. George Mason.

Sinatra Answers

NEW YORK (AP)—I don't know what the hell they're talking about," Frank Sinatra said today when asked about Nevada's Gaming Control Board charges that he entertained an underworld kingpin at his Cal-Neva lodge on Lake Tahoe.

About 175 Negroes attended a mass Negro meeting Thursday night in Loveland Community House and during a long session tried to assess to what extent they are discriminated against in Dixon.

There were no long impassioned speeches — no placards waving — no marching — no singing, except for the National Anthem — but there was about four hours of serious talk.

Although there was disagreement among the Negroes present, it became clear, from their point of view, that there are restrictions placed upon them because of their color.

The meeting was called by Rev. R. S. Shultz, pastor of the Second Baptist Church, for the purpose, he said, of reporting to the Negro community about discussions he and other Negroes have had with leaders of the white community. The Rev. Mr. Shultz said he expects to have other meetings with Mayor George Lindquist and he asked the Negroes what specific complaints they wish brought to the attention of the white community.

The pastor said, "I have every confidence in the sincerity of the mayor's concerns about race relations. I know he is not motivated for political reasons, because the Negro community is too small to influence a city election."

The president of the Dixon Branch of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, Winston McReynolds, reported that he also had been included in the conversations the Rev. Mr. Shultz has had with Lindquist and others.

He said, speaking for the NAACP, "I believe our problems with discrimination can be solved in conferences with leaders of the larger community, but we are going to get our rights, even if we have to demonstrate to get them."

Negroes told of various experiences they have had in eating and liquor establishments in the city and their reports indicated they were denied service in some restaurants and most taverns.

The Negroes felt a severe pinch in employment opportunities. Many said they had applied for jobs in stores and supermarkets and had not been hired. In most instances, that this was due to their color. However, some told of having employers telling the Negro applicant they had no jobs open but at the same time the employer was publishing advertisements for workers.

The Dixon Water Department came into the discussion over the recent alleged incident of a young Negro being hired and then being told he was not needed when he reported for work. The report is, that later the department hired a white man for the job.

Turning to housing, the group was in near agreement that realtors and property owners generally stand together in conspiring not to sell or rent to Negroes. However, the Rev. Mr. Shultz said he personally knows of two houses in the city which Negroes can purchase, he did not specifically say where they were.

With some reservation, the Negroes agreed they receive fair treatment from city officials including the police department. There was pointed criticism about the attitudes that certain county officials have expressed in dealing with Negroes.

The Rev. Mr. Shultz told the audience he would personally talk to the individual they had mentioned most critically and try to get him to serve in a willing manner all citizens he represents.

Although there was a moderate applause to McReynolds statement that the NAACP would

Top Businessmen To Unite
In Skull Session on Exports

Three hundred big business leaders from all over the country are expected to attend a White House Conference on Export Expansion Sept. 17-18.

If they can solve in two days all the balance of payments deficit problems assigned to them, it will be the neatest trick of that or any week. But they'll try.

The two working sessions of the conference, Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday morning, will be broken up into 11 groups of 20 to 30 businessmen each. One government expert will be assigned to each panel to get it any information wanted and to explain existing government policies and legislative proposals.

But the big idea is to have the businessmen themselves come up with new ideas which might be the basis of revised foreign trade policies. Existing policies haven't worked.

The good side of the situation faced is that U.S. exports have increased 50 per cent in the last 12 years. In 1951 they totaled $14 billion. In 1962, they were $20.9 billion and for the first half of 1963 the annual rate was $21.5 billion.

But this growth rate isn't considered fast enough. For a large part of this increase was foreign aid. And in the same period the U.S. balance of payments deficit has increased by $30 billion. It averaged $1.5 billion a year, 1950-56, but was $4.2 billion in 1962, with $4.5 indicated for 1963.

The 11 areas the conference panels will explore for possible remedies, and the group chairmen are:

Tax policies—William E. Knox, Westinghouse, New York. Labor's stake—George Meany, AFL-CIO, Washington. Trade promotion—Roger P. Sonnabend, Hotel Corp. of America, Boston. Foreign investment—Percy L. Douglas, Otis Elevator, New York. Financing—W. Cordes, Snyder, Blaw-Knox, Pittsburgh. Market research—R. A. Steudel, Sherwin Williams, Cleveland. Government representation abroad—James M. Roche, General Motors, New York. Small business—Thomas C. Ballagh, Ballagh & Thrall, Philadelphia. Education and publicity—Charles Rummel, Rummel Co., Rochester. Trade negotiations—Carl J. Gilbert, Gillette Co., Boston. Antitrust aspects—Alonso B. Kight, Borg-Warner, Chicago.

The high caliber of these panel heads indicates this is to be a working session and not the usual Department of Commerce ballyhoo over its trade fairs, centers and missions.

Each panel will write its own report on the afternoon of the second day. They will then be summarized for a general report and press conference conducted by Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges.

President Kennedy, followed by his Secretaries of State Rusk, Treasury Dillon, Agriculture Freeman and Labor Wirtz, will address the opening session.

Trade czar Christian A. Herter will talk about his troubles in negotiating new tariff agreements with Common Market and other countries at the first luncheon session. House Committee Chairman Oren Harris, D-Ark., will speak at the second.

Vice chairmen and working heads of the conference will be Neil C. Hurley Jr., Thor Power Tool Co., Chicago; Fred C. Foy of Koppers Co., Pittsburgh, and Thomas B. Watson Jr., IBM, New York.

Books Sell Like Crazy

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (U)—"I hate paternalism," said author Irving Wallace, whose books now sell like sardines in Norway.

"I don't want any big daddies around me.

"If you own 51 per cent of yourself, you've got a good deal—and you can be happy. But if you own only 5 per cent of yourself, you're in bad shape."

Back in 1958, his friends felt Irving was set for life. Beginning with a $5 sale to a turf periodical at the age of 15, he had turned out 500 magazine articles and short stories.

Fifteen of his movie scripts had been produced and he was on the payroll at $1,000 a week as a screen writer.

"But the money wasn't doing me any good, although it seemed awesome at the time," Wallace recalled. "It just brought me more drinks or a more expensive suit."

"Hollywood shakes your sense of values. And I felt like somebody was holding my arm whenever I wrote."

"I was tired of being treated like a mechanic or a literary carpenter. I was tired of writing scripts and magazine articles. I wanted to write books so I'd be free to say what I wanted to say."

So Wallace decided to turn his back on $50,000 a year and take up novel writing, a field in which the average practitioner earns about the same as a charwoman—but has fewer fringe benefits.

"That was my moment of truth," he said. "But I shook all the way to my typewriter."

Using the same second-hand rebuilt typewriter which his parents gave him on his 13th birthday, Wallace has turned out four novels and two biographies since 1958.

All have been sold to the movies, but he really hit the jackpot with "The Chapman Report" and "The Prize." His latest novel, "The Three Sirens," was picked in advance of publication as a book club selection and auctioned to the films for $300,000.

Financially now in the millionaire class, Wallace has found his social standing in Hollywood has risen remarkably, too.

"As a screen writer you defer to stars and producers and rarely go to their parties," he said drily. "But as a novelist, I find that has all changed.

"They not only respect you. They treat you as an equal, and are anxious to meet you."

Things Dixon
Talked About

(From the files of the Dixon Evening Telegraph)

25 YEARS AGO
Mrs. John Liggett of Amboy and Mrs. Earl Woodard of Rockford entertained a dozen guests at a bridge Saturday evening at the Liggett home complimenting Miss Philippa Flach of Amboy, whose marriage to Dean Hey of Dixon is to be solemnized this month. A bridge table and chairs was the group's gift for the bride-to-be.

Mrs. Arthur Morris, Mrs. R. C. Bovey and Mrs. Harry Edwards spent a couple of days in Chicago recently.

State's Attorney Edward A. Jones left last evening for Los Angeles, California, where he will attend the national convention of the American Legion.

Today's theme song: "Rain rain go away softball All Stars want to play." If the weather can hold off long enough from its almost daily downpour, the All Stars are set to meet the champion California Marketeers tomorrow night at the Dixon Airport for a nine inning whooper dooper. The preliminary event will find the Dixon lassies in a 5 inning round-de-de with the Ash-ton gals.

40 YEARS AGO
The important material for the coming season is velvet. Every kind of velvet, erect, pile, chiffon, is shown and sponsored for both day time and evening garments.

A brief snow flurry visited Duluth today. The earliest trace of snow scored in the history of the local weather bureau. At Hibbing, snow flurries gave the Mesaba range an early tinge of winter. Snow fell for more than an hour.

Carroll Riley and Dale Tetrick left this morning for Champaign, Ill., to attend the University of Illinois.

The Doctor
Says

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—I had a barium X ray taken and it showed pylorospasm. Since there is no ulcer, why do I have to continue on a bland diet?

A—Since this condition is usually recognized in childhood, you have probably had it in some degree all your life. The muscular control of the outlet of your stomach is abnormally strong. As a result, your stomach is slow to empty.

After a heavy meal this condition may be associated with heartburn, bringing up of sour stomach contents into your mouth, or even vomiting. If you take frequent small feedings, these symptoms will bother you less.

Your doctor wants you to take a bland diet because such a diet leaves the stomach more readily than does a diet that contains much spice and roughage. Antispasmodic drugs sometimes help.

If the condition is severe, an operation to cut some of the excess muscle at the outlet of the stomach must be performed.

Q—When I eat fresh tomatoes my teeth hurt at the gumline. It then takes several days of going without before this sensitiveness disappears. Is there anything besides not eating tomatoes I can do about it?

A—As we grow older the gums begin to recede below the enamel crown. This exposes the sensitive dentin. Dentists have used many preparations to desensitize the dentin.

One of the best is a mixture that contains sodium fluoride, kaolin and glycerin, but no desensitizer by continued erosion by such foods as tomatoes, citrus fruits and sugar.

For this reason your dentist should search for factors that cause the erosion, in addition to the dietary factor. Prevention of further erosion combined with desensitization should help you.

Q—What is a hemangioblastoma of the cerebellum? What is the cause, the symptoms and the chance of a cure?

A—You do not say that you are the one who has this disease and I sincerely hope that you are not.

This is a blood vessel tumor of the lower portion of the brain. It runs in families, but no cause is known. It may cause dizziness, difficulty in walking and headache depending on how big it is and how fast it is growing.

It is not a cancer and can be cured by removal.

Please send your questions and comments to Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

BERRY'S WORLD

"Would you play a 'cosa nostra'?"

Dear Ann:

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I am a boy 13 years old with a terrible problem. My mother is a very nice person but she is not a very good barber. She cuts my hair and my little brother's, too, and she does a lousy job of it. For a week after a haircut, I am ashamed to leave the house. All the guys in the neighborhood ask me when I am going to the electric chair.

I have told my dad how I feel about this but he says haircuts by barbers cost a lot of money and we can't afford it. He also says my hair grows like a weed and I'd have to go every other week.

Is there a solution to my problem? Or do I just have to suffer with it until I am old enough to earn some money so I can buy haircuts on my own? — SHAVED RAT

Dear S. R.: Ask your dad if he will take you to a barber college. The prices are cheaper there because students do the cutting.

The price of haircuts is no joke these days. But they haven't gone up any more than most other commodities and services. It just seems that way to us old fogies who remember when a shave and a haircut was two-bits.

Dear Ann Landers: Our daughter who is 17 invited a college roommate whom I will call Helena to spend two weeks with us. It's too late to do anything about THIS guest but I am writing to settle a few questions for next time.

Our daughter feels that since Helena has grown up in great wealth, and is accustomed to having servants wait on her hand and foot, she should not have been expected to do any household while she was a guest in our home.

Our own daughter pressed Helena's dresses and picked up after her. It annoyed me when Helena would gab on the phone by the hour while our daughter made both their beds and served her guest coffee—presumably to give her strength to hang on the phone for another hour.

We just put Helena on the plane and or daughter and I had a long discussion. She feels she was a perfect hostess and that I am wrong to criticize her for catering to the girl. We would like your opinion.

Dear MMM: The guest sounds thoroughly spoiled and ungracious. A lady does not make a servant out of her hostess.

Since your daughter cheerfully played handmaid to her friend, however, I see no reason for you to criticize her. This was strictly between them. If you had been left with the extra work I'd have offered vastly different advice.

Dear Ann Landers: Maybe you or some of your readers can help me. I am a woman past 40, never married, and have kept myself busy and content with a multitude of interests.

About three years ago a close male relative for whom I've always had a great deal of affection and respect, started to keep company with a girl 20 years his junior. These two have been carrying on an immoral relationship and everyone in town knows it.

What I want to know is this: What find fault you'd think there was a reward.

Wives are the reason married men don't let the grass grow under their feet.

Soviets May Beat U.S. to the Moon

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Soviet spaceships soon will begin exploring the moon, perhaps within a few months, some space scientists predict.

Carrying automatic instruments, they could turn the moon into a Soviet scientific garden.

Long before American astronauts land on the moon, Soviet scientists could reap answers to major mysteries about the moon's surface, its craters, its interior, and perhaps its probable origin.

The Soviets already have a rocket—used to hurl their cosmonauts around the earth—powerful enough to land sensitive automatic instruments softly on the moon, one U.S. expert says. But it will be two years or more before the United States has a moon rocket capable of doing the same thing, he claims.

"It is only logical to expect the Russians to begin intensive exploration of the moon by remote control—which we would do right now if we could," said this scientist, who asked not to be quoted by name.

Sir Bernard Lovell, British radio

BACKGROUND OF THE NEWS SPECIAL REPORT

astronomer, has predicted the Soviets would be making "soft" landings of instruments on the moon, possibly within a matter of months.

"The signs seem to point to imminent Soviet landings on the moon with highly sophisticated instruments," the American scientist said. "We presume the Russians will want to do the same type of exploration we plan to do before sending men to an unknown place."

The U.S. plans call for orbiting a television-equipped spacecraft around the moon, and for landing automatic instruments, in the program known as Surveyor.

The rocket for the Surveyor landings is the Centaur, using liquid hydrogen fuel. The timetable for Centaur has slipped nearly two years, the scientist said.

"We're simply stymied for lack of a rocket booster. With their head start on powerful boosters, the Russians could skim the cream in scientific exploration of the moon. I think we have to expect it."

The Soviets already have sent a space probe smashing into the moon's face, and taken some television photographs of its backside, as well as sending probes past the moon. One American Ranger probe hit the back side of the moon.

STEAMBOAT SMOG

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The Belle of Louisville, a county-owned steamboat purchased for a museum and recreation facility on the Ohio River, got into trouble with the Air Pollution Control Board.

Engineers said the Belle gave off dense black smoke, probably because of old equipment and the use of too much oil.

A change in the power system solved the problem.

NOTRE DAME—In dummy scrimmage, the Irish first team had Denis Snot and John Huarto alternating at quarterback. Filling out the backfield were Joe Farrell, left half; Jack Snow, right half, and Pete Duranko, fullback. Notre Dame reserves went through a long scrimmage.

NORTHWESTERN—The Wildcats, many of them nursing bumps and bruises, are happy to see drills cut from two a day to single sessions. They will engage in a regulation intrasquad game today and a final tuneup for the Missouri opener Sept. 21. Quarterback Tom Myers missed Thursday's session because of a bruised hip.

INDIANA—Fred Luffow, Arlington Heights, Ill., has advanced to the No. 2 wingback position on the Hoosier squad and Tom Erickson, South Milwaukee, has been promoted to the No. 3 fullback spot. Jack Nussbaum, Fond du Lac, Wis., quarterback, has moved up to the third string on the strength of his passing.

WISCONSIN—The Badgers' injured list, which includes tackle and co-captain Andy Wojdula, has grown to seven. Junior guard Bob Freimuth joined the disabled with a game leg. Coach Milt Bruhn has slated two light workouts for today—last of the twice daily drills.

OHIO STATE—Coach Woody Hayes worked his squad briefly this morning and then gave the Buckeyes the entire weekend off. Hayes said some of the boys wanted to see their old high school teams in action tonight. The Buckeyes went through their paces in Thursday's workouts for the Big Ten Skywriters—a group of newspapermen visiting the Big Ten football camps.

ILLINOIS — Offensive scrimmage featured an Illini practice session in which sophomore guard Kai Anderson was sidelined with a mild concussion. Tackle Archie Sutton was back in uniform for the first time since suffering a heat stroke last week but he won't taste contact work until next week.

MICHIGAN STATE—In an experiment, Coach Duffy Daugherty had Thursday's scrimmage filmed on a portable video tape recorder. Daugherty is thinking of using this device this season. The rain-soaked practice field forced the Spartans inside for Thursday's drill.

MICHIGAN—Coach Bump Elliott said that in the 15 days remaining before the Wolverines' season opener with Southern Methodist at Ann Arbor, changes most likely in the lineup will come at end, guard—especially right guard—halfback and fullback. Elliott added, "We're still competing for positions at all posts."

PURDUE — Terry Marcoline, the Boilermakers' No. 2 fullback, remains out of practice but Gene Donaldson, ranking senior halfback, apparently is recovering from a shoulder injury. In Thursday's drill, veteran Charles King, who still is recuperating from knee surgery, worked out briefly at halfback in the No. 2 unit. King alternated with Tom Fugate.

MINNESOTA — Sophomore ends John Rajala and Bob Bruggers have moved into the Gophers' first string lineup as coach Murray Warmath continues to shuffle his players. Bruggers and Rajala replaced Dick Bassett and Dan Drexler, who had held the top end spot since fall practice started. Bill Boivin Jr., son of the former Minnesota All-America guard, continues to impress as a defensive back.

General Assembly Repeals Section Of Fish Code

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — William T. Lodge, director of the Illinois Conservation Department, announced today the 73rd General Assembly repealed a section of the Fish Code which provided a season and permitted the commercial taking of crappie in certain areas of the Mississippi and Illinois Rivers.

The taking of crappie by commercial means such as seine, basket-trap, net, hoop, dip, gill, trammel or pound is now prohibited.

Lodge stated that past fish censuses indicated that commercial fishing was not a significant factor in fisheries management of the crappie.

STERLING—The Newman Central Catholic High School squad opens the season tonight in a battle with their cross-town rivals, the Sterling Warriors.

Directing the 48-man Newman squad this season is Donald McGinn. "We'll have fair speed, with at least four boys we can depend upon to move the ball swiftly," Coach McGinn commented.

"Conference wise, we'll be in there battling all the way seeking the title. We have 13 returning lettermen, which should help the squad. St. Mary's of Clinton and Morrison look like they could be tough, however," McGinn said.

"We're going to take each of the games as they come, and play our best. We won't count our chickens before they're hatched."

The Newman club will also have good depth, although one injury may hurt them—that of first string fullback—who is on the sideline with knee trouble.

"Our line will average between 165 and 170, with the backfield weighing in at 160," McGinn said.

Thursday, McGinn named his starting 11 for tonight's game. They are: left end, Dick Dibelka; left guard, Pat McDonnell; left tackle, Tom Harms; center, Dick Hammett; right guard, Leo Ribordy; right tackle, Dan Friel; right end, Dick Hermes. Backfield men include left halfback, Bob Phalen; right halfback, Saul Gonzalez; fullback, Jim Treacy; and quarterback, Jim Ackler.

"We're not limited to a running attack alone," McGinn added. "We can move well either through the air or on the ground," he said.

McGinn is assisted by Leroy Boseneiler.

Major College Season Opens Saturday

ATLANTA (P)—Florida and Georgia Tech meet Saturday in the opening game of the 1963 major college football season.

The nationally televised (CBS-TV) contest between the Southeastern Conference powers is the first major college game of the year, with only a handful of other games scheduled around the country. The college schedule won't get into full swing until next weekend.

The Yellow Jackets, rated a six-point favorite, have won 21 games to Florida's six in the history of the series. Five ended in ties. Tech finished fourth in the SEC last year with a 5-2 record and Florida came right behind with a 4-2 slate. Both teams are considered contenders for the conference title this season.

Ten Horse Field Expected for U.N. Handicap

By The Associated Press

Ten horses will clash Saturday on the Atlantic City grass course in one of the year's biggest thoroughbred attractions—the invitational $125,000 United Nations Handicap.

Carry Back, at 127 pounds, is the shakiest 2-1 favorite in the 1 1/4-mile grind.

The Axe II, conceded to be the nation's best grass course runner, packs top weight of 128 pounds and is quoted at 5-2.

Mongo, who won the U.N. a year ago, has 124 pounds and is 4-1. Crimson Satan, winner of five major 1963 stakes and runnerup to Kelso in the Aqueduct Stakes, is 6-1, with 125 pounds.

Never Bend and B. Major have 118, with 114 for Hot Dust. Others are Bronze Babu and Hard Rock Man, 120 each, and Cadiz, 119.

Semifinals Slated in U.S. Amateur Tourney

DES MOINES, Iowa (P)—It's Charlie Coe vs. Dick Sikes and Deane Beman vs. George Archer in the semifinals today of the U.S. Amateur golf tournament.

Archer, 23, who is studying to be a cowboy at Gilroy, Calif., has won the San Francisco City championship, the Northern California Open and is the Trans-Mississippi champion.

He downed a friend of his, NCAA runner-up John Lotz of San Jose State, 3 and 2, and then spilled NALA small college champion Steve Spray of Eastern New Mexico U., 1 up, in Thursday's double round.

Beman scrambled to a 1 up, 19-hole decision over Barry Meerdink of Muscatine, Iowa, before routing Cleveland salesman Walter Stahl, 6 and 5, with one-under-par play in the afternoon.

Sikes, 23, Americas, Walker and World copper, and NCAA champ from Arkansas, sank a 10-foot birdie

Redbirds Push Streak to Six

By The Associated Press
John Roseboro hit a grand slam homer and a run scoring single to produce all the runs in a 5-3 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates Thursday night that maintained the Los Angeles Dodgers' three-game grip on the National League lead.

The second-place St. Louis Cardinals won their sixth consecutive game and 15th in the last 16 by blending the pitching of Ernie Broglio and the slugging of Bill White and Stan Musial for an 8-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

In the only other NL games Thursday, San Francisco's Juan Marichal four-hit the New York Mets 6-0, and Philadelphia defeated Houston 4-1.

Roseboro, 30, a left-handed swinging catcher, is hitting only .245 with nine homers and 48 runs batted in. But he supplied the power early against the Pirates, getting his grand slam off Bob Friend, 16-15, in the first inning.

The Pirates could manage only four hits off Johnny Podres, 13-10, through seven innings. When they started to connect in the eighth, Ron Perranoski preserved the victory in his 61st relief appearance.

Broglio brought his record to 16-8 with an eight-hitter, but missed an opportunity to provide the Cardinal staff with its fourth straight shut-out. Doubles by Ellis Burton and Ken Hubbs in the seventh inning snapped a string of 36 scoreless innings by St. Louis pitchers, then John Boocabella and Jim Schaffer homered in the ninth for the Cubs.

Marichal, who hit his first major league homer, also got home run support from Felipe Alou and Ed Bailey. Marichal brought his record to 22-8 with the victory and struck out 13 Mets.

Ray Culp, 13-11, set the Colts down on five hits while Roy Sievers and Tony Taylor hit homers for the Phillies.

Frankie Crosetti, the New York Yankee third base coach, has been wearing Yankee pin stripes since 1932, either as a player or coach. If the Yanks clinch tonight, and they could, it will be his 22nd pennant winner, including seven as a player and 15 as a coach.

The Yankees took another long stride toward the 1963 pennant—their fourth in a row, 13 in 15 years and 28th overall—with a 5-2 victory over Kansas City Thursday.

Minnesota edged Cleveland 3-2 in 10 innings and Los Angeles blanked Boston 2-0 in the only other American League games scheduled.

The Yankee victory, which came behind Stan Williams, reduced their magic number to two. They'll try to nail it down in Minnesota tonight in the first of a four-game series.

Crosetti, a player-coach in 1947 and 1948, waved home Yogi Berra, another player-coach with the Yanks' first run in the second inning. Berra scoring on a single by Hector Lopez.

John Blanchard hit a two-run homer in the fourth and Berra and Tony Kubek singled in the other New York runs in the fifth and sixth.

Williams, who has won eight, allowed eight hits and walked six, but the A's left 13 men on base. Norm Siebern drove in both Kansas City runs with a single in the fifth.

Minnesota managed to retain mathematical life when Bob Allison hit a bases-loaded sacrifice fly with one out in the bottom of the tenth, breaking a 2-2 tie with Cleveland.

Earlier, Jimmy Hall hit his 32nd putt on the last hole to eliminate Ed Tutwiler of Charleston, W. Va., and fired straight pars in humbling John Owens of Lexington, Ky., 6 and 4 in the quarter-finals.

Coe, the U.S. champion in 1949 and 1958, had a couple of breezes—8 and 7 over Jimmy Thompson of the University of Texas, and 6 and 4 over Dick Guardiola of Cleveland.

Ten Regulars Back On OSU Gridiron

By JERRY LISKA

Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (P) — Woody Hayes, starting what appears an "Unlucky 13th" Ohio State football coaching season, may have a green Buckeye squad, but his quarterbacking should be the brainiest in the Big Ten.

Hayes lost eight offensive starters and four defensive regulars from a 1962 club which had an overall 6-3 record and a 4-2 Big Ten mark for a third-place tie behind Wisconsin and Minnesota.

The exodus of last season's talent included all three offensive quarterbacks, Bill Mrukowski, John Mumme and Joe Sparma, but Hayes doesn't seem concerned about this vital position.

One reason probably is that the present-day quarterback is supposed to be hot at passing, which Hayes doesn't emphasize. The Bucks threw an average of only 11 times per game last year.

The other reason is that Hayes' top two quarterback candidates—sophomore Don Unverforth and junior letterman Arnold Chonko—are academic bluebloods, "fabulous students" to the avid Woody.

Both are straight "A" pre-med students. Whether they can outsmart the bruising opposition in a schedule including three of the nation's highest rated clubs—Southern California, Wisconsin and Northwestern—remains to be seen.

Certainly the Buckeyes appear weakest at their traditionally strong point, "Down the Middle." In addition to rebuilding at quarterback, Hayes must shore up the loss of all three centers and all three offensive fullbacks.

But Hayes is high on a 200-pound fullback, Tom Barrington, who with 235-pound tackle Doug Van Horn and 212-pound center Dwight Keller rate as starting sophomores.

However, with Barrington sidelined because of a fractured jaw suffered in a summer industrial accident, the starting Buckeye fullback in the Sept. 28 opener against Texas A&M probably will be brilliant end Matt Snell.

The shift is easy for Snell, who like holdover All-America candidate Paul Warfield, is a halfback by breeding and choice. It may take two or three games before Barrington, called a can't-miss prospect by Hayes, is back in harness. Snell will play offensive fullback and defensive end until Barrington's return and then probably play offensive halfback.

"We're not big, we have fairly good speed, but we're green as grass," is the way Hayes describes his flock which includes 19 returning lettermen, including 10 holdover regulars of either offensive or defensive pedigree.

Hayes says he has only four seniors who are "good football players," which would indicate that this is a rare rebuilding season at Ohio State, with 15 juniors and 12 sophomores in the first 35.

Meadow Skipper Wins $163,187 Cane Futurity

YONKERS, N.Y. (P)—Meadow Skipper, the colt who was expected to beat Overrick if such a thing was possible in the $163,187 Cane Futurity, did just that Thursday night.

A crowd of 24,066 fans at Yonkers Raceway watched two of the fastest pacers in history battle it out in the one mile Futurity, second richest harness race. It was a near world record performance for 3-year-old pacers.

The winners paid $8.70 for $2 and took down first prize of $89,753.

Meadow Skipper was clocked in 1:58 4/5, compared with the world mark of 1:58 3/5 for 3-year-old pacers on a one-half mile oval set by Bullet Hanover and Muncy Hanover in heats of the 1960 Little Brown Jug.

It was the speediest ever at Yonkers for a 3-year-old, and equaled the fastest time for horses of any age at the New York track.

JFK Vagueness Ominous Sign for Dictator Diem

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy, fed up with the developing chaos in South Viet Nam, has pulled a veil over American actions there. That the United States will act seems certain. He left the how clouded over.

But Kennedy's very vagueness at his news conference Thursday, or rather the way he chose to be vague, can be interpreted as ominous for the dictatorship of President Ngo Dinh Diem.

The United States has pumped billions of dollars in aid into Viet Nam—plus troops—to fight the war against Communists, fearing that if Viet Nam is lost all Southeast Asia may be lost.

But Diem and his Roman Catholic family, in a country more than 70 per cent Buddhist, have turned the war into hash and brought the country to internal crisis by their repressions against Buddhists and students.

Some American actions, or pressures, or warnings may have already started.

The State Department has denied that this country's new ambassador to Viet Nam, Henry Cabot Lodge, has told Diem to throw out his brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, head of the secret police. Nhu has acquired a sinister stature.

But strangely in the midst of all the domestic turmoil two other extremely important members of Diem's family have already left the country.

One, Nhu's arrogant wife, a storm center in the trouble with the Buddhists, has gone to Belgrade to attend an interparliamentary conference and will later go to New York.

The other, Diem's brother, Archbishop Ngo Dinh Thuc, who is now in Paris, has been in New York after visiting Rome where his scheduled audience with Pope Paul VI was canceled.

The Pope has said he is profoundly disturbed by events in Viet Nam. Thuc said in New York the Vatican had ordered him to shut up on the situation in his country. In short, he was silenced.

Still left in Viet Nam with Diem are his brother, Nhu, and another brother, a powerful but seldom-mentioned figure, Ngo Dinh Can, who holds no official position but is boss of the central part of the country.

Both the Eisenhower and Kennedy administrations have handled Diem very gingerly because, so the reports in Washington go, he was strongly anti-Communist and it would be difficult, if not impossible, to find anyone to replace him.

It seems the Diem family traded on the American belief in their indispensability and ran both the war

URBANA, Ill. (AP)—A housing pinch has forced coeds into temporary dormitory space at the University of Illinois and prevented 125 women from finding campus quarters.

A check Thursday showed 94 coeds are sleeping on bunks placed in dressing rooms and lounges in women's dormitories.

It also showed that 52 girls with permits to enter haven't been able to make housing arrangements and that 64 potential coeds have been denied permits until they find living quarters.

CHICAGO (AP)—Arthur Lawrence Stickell, the former Galesburg, Ill., lawyer now figuring in a complicated series of legal actions, has been held to face federal charges in Denver.

Stickell waived preliminary hearing Thursday before a U.S. commissioner on charges of fraudulently cashing two checks in the sum of $93,000 through the Byers (Colo.) State Bank.

A deal by Stickell and associates for purchase of the Byers bank has been under investigation by a federal grand jury in Denver.

OKAWVILLE, Ill. (AP)—Okawville is observing its 125th anniversary this weekend with a two-day celebration with a 19th century flavor.

Men of this community of 930 residents 40 miles from St. Louis have grown beards and the women have assembled wardrobes of gowns styled to pioneer fashions.

For one of the two parades, on Saturday, the townspeople have collected antique automobiles, buggies, fringe-topped surreys, a farm threshing rig and Conestoga wagons, fore-runners of today's house trailers.

A parade of historical floats will be held on Sunday. Other events include a beauty contest, an outdoor show and carnival.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—City Patrolman James Mallette accepted when ex-convict Carl Wesley Brown offered to buy the policeman's breakfast.

But Mallette later told his superiors of the big roll of money Brown was carrying. This led to an investigation which led to the arrest of Brown in connection with the $500 burglary of a gas station owned by his brother-in-law.

Truck Driver Takes Choice; Runs in River

BEACON FALLS, Conn. (AP) — The driver had a choice. He could let his 14-ton truck ram a convertible carrying three children or he could drive it into the Naugatuck River.

So Henry D. Murray, 46, of Baltimore, Md., drove into the river Thursday.

His tractor-trailer was heavily damaged, police said, but Murray escaped with cuts and bruises.

"If I hadn't swerved," he said, "I might have killed them all."

A front tire on the convertible driven by Patricia Picanso, 19, of Naugatuck, blew out. The car veered from the right to the left lane of the highway, which parallels the river, just as Murray was passing.

State Gets $2 For Land Sale

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sale of a plot of Pope County land, apparently overlooked by homesteaders, accounts for that $2 check the government says it is sending to the state of Illinois.

The Bureau of Land Management said Thursday the money is being paid under terms of a federal-state agreement dating to the Louisiana Purchase of 1803, several years before Illinois became a state.

Other payments announced last weekend include $4 to Missouri and $60.28 to Wisconsin, representing their shares of receipts from the sale of isolated tracts of public domain.

The bureau said Illinois, under the 150-year-old agreement, gets 5 per cent of the net realized from sale of the Pope County plot. It sold for $50.

The bureau said the Illinois parcel was one of the few remaining plots in the Midwest overlooked by homesteaders and other settlers. The agency said some 446 million acres are still under its management in the western states and Alaska.

Indian Strives For Independence

BISMARCK, N.D. (AP) — While the nation's attention is focused on the battle for Negro civil rights the native American Indian is waging his own independence struggle in reverse.

Unlike the Negro, who demands integration with the white man, the Indian is fighting to remain a separate and distinct race.

Where the Negro wants equality, the Indian asserts he is entitled to more than that — every advantage enjoyed by the whites, plus recognition as survivors of a once sovereign power.

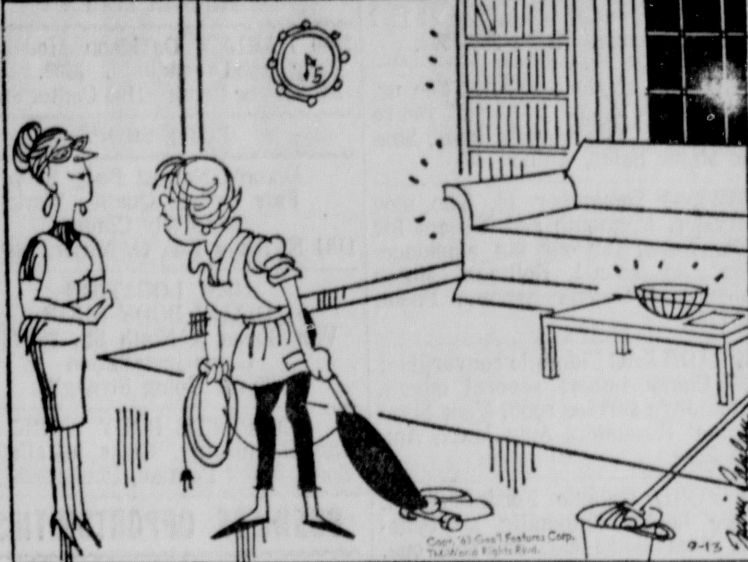

War councils to obtain those aims met in Bismarck this past week, during the 20th annual convention of the National Congress of American Indians. The congress claims to represent some 400,000 of the estimated 600,000 Indians on reservations across the country.

FAY STAY HOME?

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — C. E. Wainwright, 73, celebrated his golden wedding anniversary by water-skiing — with his doctor piloting the tow boat.

Wainwright and his wife, Fay, were married June 15, 1913, at Monett, Mo. — with a marriage license dated Friday the 13th. Wainwright's anniversary ski wasn't his first venture at the sport — he tried it on his 65th birthday.

Here Are the Facts About DODGE!!

Do you know that in 1963 Dodge is the number 1 car in the nation in sales increase? Dodge sales are up more than 65% over last year, not only because the cars are pleasing to look at, but because the performance has surpassed most owners' expectations... the 1963 Dodge's riding qualities are exceptional. Its economy is making believers out of its owners... its dependability and safety features are tops in the field to the delight of Dodge owners and it requires very little maintenance. No wonder car owners are changing to Dodge. All this plus the 5 year and 50,000 mile warranty backed by Chrysler Corporation and serviced by Dixon Motors help give today's customer just a little more than the average car. Dodge for 1963 has been great. Just around the corner, Dodge for 1964... even greater, a delight and treat for all... on display soon.

30 Days to Better Education - 8 Why We Forget Things

By The Reading Laboratory, Inc.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Association

The title of this article may be a little misleading. Nobody is really sure just how learning works. There's a whole host of plausible theories on the psychological market but there are still large gaps in our knowledge. We do know enough about learning to figure out some productive study methods, and perhaps more important, we know something about forgetting, too.

We know, for instance, that your learning is restricted by your span of concentration, and we know that the average span of concentration for a student on a single subject is about 50 minutes. That's why your classes are usually 50 minutes long.

We know that you can learn meaningful material more easily than you can memorize nonsense syllables—and that you can retain the meaningful material longer. We know that most forgetting occurs immediately after learning because the continued flow of new material makes it difficult for a new concept to "take." On the other hand, if you can still remember something the day after you learned it, you can be sure you won't forget it easily.

This just scratches the surface of learning theory, but it's enough to help you plan your study time more intelligently. For instance, if your span of concentration is only 50 minutes, isn't it silly to study one subject for three or four hours straight through?

Since the influx of new material speeds up forgetting, doesn't it follow that if you study for several hours without reinforcement, you'll forget most of what you learned in the first hour? And if meaningful material is the easiest to learn, isn't it pointless to memorize without trying to understand what you're memorizing?

Here's the way you ought to study to make the facts of learning work for you:

- Study in spurts. Study for about a half hour, then take a five-minute break.
- Really turn your mind on full power for each "study spurt." Get the most out of each spurt. Be active, involved and thinking.
- Switch subjects. Spend two half-hour periods on one subject then switch to another. It'll keep your mind fresh.
- Spend the first five minutes of each half-hour period reviewing the previous half-hour. This kind of regular reinforcement will eliminate a lot of forgetting.
- If you have to memorize something, understand it first.
- Take notes as you study—just key words to help you remember. Your memory is tricky; don't trust it.
- At the end of each week, make a quick review of the week's study.

Make your mind work for you; don't work against it.

(NEXT: Organizing your materials.)
